

The circled numbers (in the red ovals) are the actual arguments used for the 3 pictures. Test your code with these same arguments and make sure you get the same pictures (except that your window sizes will be different)!

